Dye's Bank Note Plate Delineator. - We have received a copy of this work, published by John S. Dye, Exchange broker, New York. By giving printed descriptions of the genuine notes of every denomination issued by the banks of the United States and British North America, it enables the merchant or tradesman at once to detect spurious and altered bills, which, under all other plans, was at best a matter of doubt. For this reason, it must eventually take the place of the old-fashioned Bank Note Detectors, under which counterfeiting grew up to its present dangerous power. Mr. Dye has here hit upon an idea that cannot fail not only to immortalize him, but which must at the same time make his fortune, because we cannot see how any person who ever has occasion to deal in paper money, can get along without referring to it.

The publication will naturally assist in destroying that class of rogues who, for the last quarter of a century, have been living on the honest industry of the country. A boy of ten years of age with this work before him, can readily detect spurious or altered bills, that without it might puzzle even the most experienced bank tellers. Its greatness consists in its simplicity, being at once understood by any one who can read. We perceive that the bank officers all over the country are publishing the most flattering testimonials in favor of this work, and we should judge from what we see and hear, that it is having the most extended sale of any anying that has been issued from the American press.

Behind the Times .- Several days ago, a plain, unassuming citizen, seeing a badge of crape hanging to a door-knob, and the window shutters tied with pieces of a similar material, conceived that as many persons as there were pieces of crape lay dead in the house! To satisfy himself on that point, he made inquiry of the servant, and learned that only one spirit, that of a child, had just gone to heaven.

The gentleman who related this incident to us, says that, not long since, an elderly citizen seeing the outside blinds of a dwelling in his neighborhood tied with crape, rang the bell and thus summoned the servant to the door. "I called," he remarked, "to inform you that the crape is still on your shutters. As Mr. - was buried some days ago, I thought you had forgotten to take it off." The servant, smiling, informed the kindhearted old gentleman that the crape was purposely left where it was; and added that it was becoming fashionable, now-a-days, to keep the shutters tied with crape for a limited period. The nged citizen returned home, and related what he had heard to his family, as an item of news.

We merely mention those incidents to show that we live in such a progressive age that some people-of the old fogy fan ily-cannot keep pace with the fashions.

Swindling .- It appears, from an article in the Baltimore American, that during the past week two young men, of Scotch birth, arrived in that city and called upon the Rev. Mr. Stringfellow and presented a letter from the Rev. Smith Pyne, of Washington, and a letter from a clergyman of Scotland, which stated that they were upright and industrious, and communicants of the Episcopal Church By means of these letters they swindled several persons. How they procured the letter from the Rev. Mr. Pyne is not known, but it is supposed by the gentlemen upon whom they imposed in Baltimore that it was effected by imposition. They are about twenty-eight and thirty years of age, and are brothers, with light hair and blue eyes. It appears that all their applications for assistance are made to clergymen, and it would be well for that class of individuals to be on the lookout for them and expose their conduct.

Mission Field .- A minister of the Gospel, on Sunday, said, in the course of his sermon, that no more than one-sixth of the people of this metropolis are converted to God and in church fellowship. He mentioned this by way of "stirring up the pure minds of his hearers by way of remembrance," and of impressing upon them the duty of setting a good christian example and of making presidency. efforts to gather souls into the fold of the Great Shepherd.

Now, here is home work to do. It occurs to us that if ministers would follow the example of their Saviour and that of the disciples, preaching and exhorting in the by-ways, and wherever there can be found listening ears, they would have more "souls for their hire" and "seals to their ministry." We are of opinion that there should be out-door as well as in-door preaching, if the conversion of sinners be the main object of the ministry.

Proceedings of Congress.-Ever since the adjournment of Congress, which took place three weeks ago, the Daily Globe has been publishing the arrearage of proceeding; those of the last two days alone amounting to one hundred and eightyfour columns!

The Daily Globe will now be suspended until the commencement of the next session, but on and after Wednesday next it will be issued three times a week until all the laws passed during the last session shall have been published in that

The Minnesota, one of the six war steam-frigates authorized to be built by Congress, and now in the course of construction at the Washington navy-yard, is nearly one hundred and eighty-seven feet in length; the depth of hold to gun-deck beams, twenty-six feet four inches.

The work on this vessel is rapidly advancing The iron braces are being put together and curved. Two hundred and fifty-seven men are employed on the Minnesota, as shipcarpenters, borers, sawyers, and laborers.

Wife Whipping.-Yesterday, Captain Birch sent to jail two men, for whipping their wives. Such occurrences among the "baser sort" are becoming frequent. It is time for the victims of such cruelty to assert their "woman's rights" to kind treatment, at least. There are some poor females who endure the bad treatment of their husbands rather than expose them to the censure of the world and the justice of the law.

Circuit Court .- The March term of the United States Circuit Court for this District commenced yesterday. A large number of attorneys was in attendance. Nothing of importance was transact ed except calling over the docket, and arranging various cases for trial, and making arrangements for "continuance."

Accident .- Mr. A. W. Martin, a workman em ployed at Morsell's machine shop, had the misfortune, on Saturday, to lose the thumb of his right hand, it having come in contact with a saw. The wound was dressed at the Washington Infirmary.

Criminal Court.-Several trifling cases were submitted to his Honor, without the formality of a trial, and thus settled by the imposition of small fines, yesterday.

A Fire, in Alexandria, Virginia, on Sunday. night, destroyed about five thousand dolllars worth of property, in the neighborhood of Fishtown.

Flour.-Last week, upward of twelve thousand barrels of flour arrived at Georgetown by way of the Chesapenke and Ohio Canal.

A TRIPLE JEWISH MARRIAGE. - Between the hours of twelve and one o'clock yesterday, a blissful scene was witnessed by a large concourse of friends in the Synagogue of the Jews on Lloyd street. Three happy couples were at the same ceremony, united in the bands of holy wedlock by Rev. Dr. Hockheimer. The candidates for matrimonial honors, in pairs, having appeared within the altar, a long white woolen robe was thrown entirely over each couple. The Rev. gentleman ascended the lesk and delivered an address. Then descending, he approached the first couple and caused the gentleman to place upon the right fore-finger of the lady a ring. This was followed by the male attendant tending to the groom a lass of wine-the bridesmaid followed the example, and groom and bride each partook of the wine. The minister then read—the robe was entirely removed—and the wine again handed and tasted as before. The ceremony in the other two cases was precisely similar The brides were appropriately attired in white, with crape shawls, embroidered. Head dresses, light caps neatly trimmed with evergreen.

Throughout the entire service there was deep silence and solemnity—and the ceremony (though the language was not understood by some) was evidently conducted with ability. At the close there were many congratulations and kind feelings expressed, whilst a few, one of them probably an aged mother, gave vent to her feelings in tears.—Balt. Sun of Monday. BANK VETO .- The Governor of Pennsylva nia has returned, without his approval, the act of the legislature chartering the Bank of Pottstown. In the message returning the bill, he avows a readiness to sanction the incorporation of new banks when indispensably neces-sary, and clearly demanded by the actual busi-ness wants and interests of the State, but in determining this question, the locality itself— its existing banking facilities—its proximity to other banks, and to the great marts of trade the means of communication—the amount, and other attendant circumstances, should b considered. From a careful examination of all these, and with proper reference to private and public interests, he cannot discover the necessity that requires, or the wants or interest of the community that clearly demand the locaion of a branch at Pottstown, and therefore withholds his approval.

REMARKABLE PROPHESY .- The following re narkable prediction was made by Friar Bacon, who was born in the year 1,214, some 640 year ago. "Here," says a certain writer, "is poetry and philosophy wound together, forming a wondrous chain of prophesy":

"Bridges unsupported by arches will be made

o span the foaming current. Men shall de scend to the bottom of the ocean, safely breath ing, treading with a firm step on the golden sands, never brightened by the light of day. Call but the secret powers of Sol and Luna into action, and behold a single steersman sitting at the helm guiding the vessel which divide the waves with greater rapidity than if she had been filled with a crew of mariners toiling at the oars; and the loaded chariot, no longer encumbered by the panting steeds, shall dart on its course with resistless force and rapidity. Let the simple elements do thy labor; bind the eternal elements and yoke them to the same

INTERESTING FROM TEXAS.—Galveston papers of the 15th instant, contain accounts of great destruction of property by fires in the cedar forests near Austin. The flames, in many places, rose 300 feet above the earth. Fences, out-houses, woods and rails, valued at thousands of dollars, were consumed, and a number of horses and cows perished in the flames.

The Lavaca Commercial learns that the cold n February proved very destructive to the stock upon the prairies. A large number of cattle have died.

RANDOLPH, of the United States Navy She died after a few days illness, leaving five little children. Mrs. RANDOLPH was well and in imately known to the writer. She was an exraordinary woman. In the character of he aind she united almost every element of genius which was improved and elevated by the rarest accomplishments. She was not less remarkable for her strong practical sense; and her wit which enlivened every company, ever quick and sparking, was so tempered by her kind humor as never to inflict a wound. She was as kind and as generous in her nature as she was bright and attractive in her mind. She had many warm friends and deserved them all. Her death has cast gloom on our society, for she was one of its orightest ornaments. She was an affectionate daughter, and a watchful and devoted mother.
